Advantages of pulverizing the soil.
The effects of pulverizing or stirring the soil are numerous:

1. It gives free scope to the roots of vegetables, and they become more fibrous in a loose than in a hard soil, by which the mouths or pores become more numerous, and such food as is in the soil has a better chance of being sought after and taken by them.
2. It admits the atmospheric air to the spongy pores of the roots—without which no plant can make a healthy growth.
3. It increases the capillary attraction or sponge life property of soils, by which their humidity is rendered more uniform; and in a hot season it increases the deposit of dew, and admits it to the roots.
4. It increases the temperature of the soil in the spring, by admitting the warm air and tepid rain.
5. It increases the supply of organic food. The atmosphere contains carbonic acid, ammonia, and nitric acid,—all most powerful fertilizers and solvents. A loose soil attracts and condenses them. Rain and dew also contains them. And when these fertilizing gases are carried into the soil by rain water they are absorbed and retained by the soil, for the use of plants. On the other hand, if the soil is hard, the water runs off the surface, and instead of leaving these gases in the soil, carries off some of the best portions of the soil with it. Thus what might be a benefit becomes an injury.
6. By means of pulverization, a portion of atmospheric air is buried in the soil, and it is supposed that ammonia and nitric acid are formed by the mutual decomposition of this air and the moisture of the soil—heat being also evolved by the changes.
7. Pulverization of the surface of soils serves to retain the moisture in the subsoil, and to prevent it from being penetrated by heat from a warmer, as well as from radiating its heat to a colder atmosphere than itself. These effects are produced by the porosity of the pulverized stratum, which acts as a mulch, especially on heavy soils.
8. Pulverization, also, as the combined effect of several of the preceding causes, accelerates the decomposition of the organic matter in the soil, and the disintegration of the mineral matter; and thus prepares the inert matter of the soil for assimilation by the plants.

Why Plowing in Clover Exhausts the Soil.

In answer to this question, we have space this month to mention only one important fact brought to light by the experiments of Laws and Gilbert. It was found that to grow a crop of turnips, clover, &c., more available inorganic matter is needed in the soil than is required for a crop of wheat. Thus, on the same kind of soil on which a crop of wheat of fifteen bushels per acre was annually obtained for ten successive years, without any manure turnips, the second and third years, did not grow larger than radishes; yet, supplied with superphosphate of lime, this soil annually produced good crops of turnips. We have then the remarkable fact that, while the ash of wheat contains five times as much phosphoric acid as the ash of turnips, the turnip requires for its growth the presence in the soil of more available phosphoric acid than is required by the wheat plant. From this it follows that a soil will be sooner deficient of inorganic matter for a crop of turnips, clover, or peas, than it will for wheat; and that these crops contain more inorganic matter than is required by the increase of wheat produced by their ammonia. It follows that so long as we can grow clover and peas, we need not fear any deficiency of the ash constituents of wheat.

Manure of Stock fed on Cut Fodder.—The Genesee Farmer calls attention to the fact that "the solid excrements of animals are much heavier in proportion to the food eaten from cut than uncut fodder." A farmer experimenting on the question, found a saving of about 15 per cent. in the amount consumed, in favor of cut hay, and also an increase of excrement of 15 per cent. The latter is due undoubtedly to the increased capacity of the cut fodder to absorb liquid rapidly. 'T'hus says the Farmer, 'we spend less hay and make more manure, which is the farmer's capital,' and this is but one advantage of the practice.

Bones and Wheat.—According to Sir Robert Kane, the distinguished chemist, one pound of bones contains the phosphoric of 28 pounds of wheat. A crop of wheat of forty bushels per acre, and 60 pounds per bushel, weighs 2400 pounds, and thus requires about 86 pounds of bones to supply it with that essential material. The usual supply of bone dust (3 to 4 cwt. per acre) supplies each of the crops for four years with a sufficiency of phosphoric acid, which is given out as the bones decompose.

Gapes in Chickens.—A writer says that he found by accident, that 'dough raised with milk rising is a sure and safe remedy for gapes in chickens, fed while fermenting, but while still sweet.' He has tried it for six years, but says when he seasons the feed of his chickens with salt, as for cooking, they never have the gapes.

Clove Cake.—One pound of sugar, one pound flour, half pound butter, four eggs, a teaspoonful saleratus, a cup of milk, a teaspoonful powdered mace, same cinnamon, same cloves, fruit, if you choose.

DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS.

Above we present you with a likeness of DR. MORSE—the inventor of MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS. This philanthropist has spent the greater part of his life in traveling, having visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as North America, and spent three years among the Indians of our Western country—it was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD—that our strength, health and life depended upon this vital fluid.

When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action, becomes thick, corrupted, and diseased; thus causing all pains, sickness and distress of every name; our strength is exhausted, our health we are deprived of, and if nature is not assisted in throwing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become choked and clogged, and thus our light of life will forever be blown out. How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant to us that we have in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, which will cleanse the blood, and roots which grow around the mountainous cliffs in Nature's Garden, for the health and recovery of diseased man. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Sudorific, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in throwing out the four parts of the corruption which the blood contains, as a sweat, as a perspiration, that opens and unblocks the passage to the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner, performs his duty in throwing off plegm, and other humors from the lungs by copious spitting. The third is a Diuretic, which gives double ease and strength to the kidneys; thus encouraged, they draw large amounts of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out beautifully by the urinary or water passage, and which could not have been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accompanies the other properties of the Pills while engaged in purifying the blood; the coarser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.

From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the stomach, but become united with the blood, for they find way to every part, and completely root out and cleanse the system from all impurity, and the blood, which is the life of the body, becomes perfectly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system, for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear.

The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and do not get well, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the affected parts, and which will open the natural passage for the disease to be cast out; hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged, and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; thus undergoing a disagreeable fermentation, constantly mixing with the blood, which throws the corrupted matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's PILLS have added to themselves victory upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands of lives have been saved, and thousands of pains, pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought, as it were, within a step of the silent grave, now stand ready to testify that they would have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After the medicine is taken, they were taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only do they give immediate ease and strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the fountain of the disease, which is the blood.—Therefore, it will be seen, that the medicine, who use these Pills, that they will cleanse and purify, that disease that deadly enemy—will take its flight, and the flush of youth and beauty will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will be opened and brighten your days.
